Hello TMMS Community,

This week we reached the halfway point of 2Q. Progress Reports were sent out today to both family and student emails. You can email or call your student's guidance counselor if you need help with this. We have one more week to go until we are on our winter break. Next week we have school spirit week. See the days below. Our Dream More Program wrapped up their fall session with capstone projects present Thursday night. It was a great turn out! On Wednesday December 21st we will have our holiday concert where our band/string students will shine. Our Holiday Mall is up and running with many elves ready to help our students shop! This week our staff worked on looking at data to address student needs during our half day. Lastly, our PTO treated our staff to Mustang Mugs! Thank you, PTO!

We lost a beloved family monitor this week, Pedro Subervi. He was a positive support and smiling face each day he was with us. We are sending our wishes for peace to his family and friends. As his colleagues, we are leaning on each other to honor his memory and grieve his loss. We have clinicians ready to help with any student and staff who need to process and discuss their feelings. Thank you, Pedro, for each day you shined here at TMMS. Your legacy lives on in many.
